

Ceremony Is Lacking As Sessions At Moscow Open

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Moscow, March 10 (P)—Secretary of State Marshall gave a new push today to the United States proposal for a four-power alliance against Germany, but he was assured the support of only Britain's Ernest Bevin as the Foreign Ministers Council met in snow-mantled Moscow to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

The Ministers opened the momentous session with little ceremony as a snowstorm swirled over this capital of the Russians.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France was reported to be tentatively agreeing to support the four-power pact sponsored by the United States only if it was part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent. He insisted that the other parts must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a weak central government and a low level of industrial production.

Marshall's Plans
Marshall told correspondents he was going to press for the German disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by James F. Byrnes, his predecessor. Bevin is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

The Secretary of State declined to speculate on the length of the Moscow meeting. Authoritative informants said, however, that Marshall was prepared to stay here as long as necessary to make real progress—assuming the first two or three weeks prove progress is possible.

The Ministers drove over snow-covered streets to the meeting place, the house of the Soviet aviation industry, two miles from the Kremlin. The grinding of movie cameras attracted various Russians, including workers who were cleaning the streets with snow removal equipment.

Ceremony Absent
From the absence of ceremony it was apparent that the Russians wanted to impress upon everyone the "businesslike" character of the conference.

The only decorations outside the building were two sets of small flags of the United States, Britain, France (Please turn to Page 2)

Try To Kill President Of Philippines

Manila, March 10 (P)—An attempt to assassinate Philippines President Manuel Roxas was made today when a hand grenade was thrown on the platform where he had just finished speaking.

The grenade was thrown by an unidentified person as the president concluded his speech in the grandstand at Plaza Miranda in front of historic Quiapo church.

Roxas was not injured. He left immediately for Malacan while police threw a cordon around the grandstand in an effort to trap the would be killer.

The grenade exploded just 20 feet from President Roxas.

Malacan palace announced late last night that he was resting well after the incident.

Photographer Emilio Maglaland, who was taking pictures of President Roxas, was injured by the grenade. Shrapnel pierced the right side of his back.

The large crowd assembled to hear President Roxas speak was panic-stricken by the explosion.

BULLETINS

Nanking, March 10 (P)—Lt. Gen. Hsiao-tai, 65, who commanded some of the troops responsible for the rape of Nanking, today was sentenced to death by a firing squad after a Chinese military court convicted him of responsibility for that war crime. He was the first of 16 former Japanese generals scheduled for war trials here.

New York, March 10 (P)—Caution was the watchword in today's stock market with narrow irregularity ruling from the start. Dealings turned quiet after a moderately active opening. While modest plus marks persisted near the fourth hour, declines were plentiful.

Washington, March 10 (P)—John E. Purifoy of South Carolina, was nominated today by President Truman to be an assistant secretary of state. Purifoy has been serving as an acting assistant secretary.

Chicago, March 10 (P)—Wheat and oats jumped to new highs since 1920 in active dealings on the board of trade today. March wheat sold at $2.67½ and March oats at 98½ cents a bushel. Wheat gained as much as four cents, oats one cent, and corn two cents.

MEHRING FINED $85 ON CRUELTY CHARGES HERE

Stewart P. Mehring, Butler township, whose convictions on two charges of cruelty to animals and three charges of harboring unlicensed dogs were upheld by Judge W. C. Sheely in an opinion handed down February 15, was fined a total of $85 in court this morning, and assessed the costs of the action. He paid both.

Mehring, arrested last June on complaint of Harry Oakes, state dog law enforcement officer, and representatives of the SPCA, had appealed convictions by Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore, before whom the cases were heard June 20. He was called up for sentence today. Judge Sheely applied the statutory fines in directing Mehring to pay $5 on each of the charges of harboring unlicensed dogs, $20 on the first charge of cruelty and $50 on the second cruelty charge. He maintained a place in Berwick township where dogs he purchased and acquired for sale, many to institutions for vivisection and experimental purposes, were kept under conditions which the SPCA described as deplorable.

Photographers Busy
Testimony at the hearing showed that dogs were kept in a building without water, with little or no ventilation, that motor crankcase oil was used in treating mange and that other cruelties were practiced. Among those present in court today when Mehring was sentenced was Owen B. Hunt, Philadelphia, vice president of the American Anti-Vivisection society, and former insurance commissioner in Governor Earle's cabinet. Mr. Hunt was an Armistice Day speaker here for the American Legion in 1938.

Photographers for the International News Service created an unusual diversion in court this morning when they rushed from the court room to take pictures of Mehring as he was being taken out by Deputy Sheriff B. E. Bixler. Later Mr. Mehring posed for pictures in the office of the clerk of the courts and on the court house steps.

Becker Paroled
Richard Currens, Orianna, charged by the Commonwealth with selling a gun without having a permit, was sentenced to four months in jail, time already served to apply. He was placed on parole for one year, having served half of the sentence, and given two months to pay the costs.

John D. Becker, Gettysburg, sentenced to jail for from six to 12 months on conviction of receiving stolen property, was also placed on parole for one year, after serving his minimum sentence. He was committed. (Please turn to Page Two)

DRIVER HELD IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE SATURDAY

The automobile which fatally injured Miss Gloria Myers, 16, of Hanover, and sent four others to hospitals with lesser injuries on December 26, as the result of a crash on the Littlestown-Hanover road, was travelling at a high rate of speed, and on the wrong side of the highway, Mrs. Pauline Myers, mother of the dead girl testified Saturday afternoon at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Wesley C. Ingram, Catonsville, Md., driver of the car which struck the jeep driven by Miss Myers, was held for court on an involuntary manslaughter charge. Bail of $2,000 was continued. Ingram was arrested by state police of the Gettysburg sub-station after his release from the Hanover hospital.

Had Two Drinks
Mrs. Myers testified Saturday that she was sitting on the front seat of the jeep, going toward Littlestown, and saw Ingram's car coming toward the Myers car "at a high rate of speed." She said that all four wheels of the Ingram car were "on our side of the road." She said she first saw the Ingram car when it was "half a block" away. As it approached, she said, Gloria screamed "They're going to hit." Her daughter jammed on the brakes, according to Mrs. Myers' testimony, and pulled the jeep as far as she could to the right side of the road, before the crash. Gloria was thrown out of the jeep.

State Policeman Frank Yercavage, Gettysburg testified that he saw Ingram in the Hanover hospital after the accident, and smelled alcohol on his breath. He said Ingram told him he had had two drinks of liquor before leaving Catonsville, and two more with friends he stopped to see enroute. Yercavage said there was wine in the car, but testified. New License Plates To Be Valid March 15

Those new licenses look very pretty—but keep them off your car until next Saturday the state police warned today.

A number of motorists who failed to read the notice on the envelope containing the licenses that they are not usable on cars until after March 14 blossomed forth with new 1947 tags over the week-end. After a conference with police they went back again to those dreary old 1946 licenses for a few days more.

REPORTS FOR YEAR GIVEN AT D.A.R. MEETING

Members of the Gettysburg chapter, D.A.R., heard annual reports presented at the March meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, college campus.

Mrs. Mark K. Eckert, regent, presided and called for reports from all officers and committee chairmen after which she presented the annual report of the regent. Mrs. A. H. Barr told briefly of the adjourned conference of the 50th annual state conference of the D.A.R. held Friday in Harrisburg. Others attending the state meeting were Mrs. Eckert, Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, Mrs. Victor Dutera, Mrs. Fred Troxell and Mrs. John A. Mumper. Mrs. Bilheimer was chosen as a new director of the central district, Pennsylvania Society, D.A.R.

3 VEHICLES INVOLVED IN SUNDAY CRASH

A three-car crash caused by slippery road conditions three miles west of McSherrystown on the Gettysburg road was investigated by state police. The accident occurred at 12:20 o'clock Sunday morning.

Christ Fourlas, 38 Carlisle street, Hanover, was driving toward Gettysburg when his car skidded on the ice as it attempted to round the curve, according to police. Fourlas car turned around and was headed east as it came to a stop. It had no more than stopped when a car driven by Louis A. Canpanaro, a student at Gettysburg college, also skidded and smashed into the side of the Fourlas car.

Sebastian R. Hafer, Carlisle street, according to police, was following Canpanaro's car. Hafer's vehicle also skidded and crashed into the other two autos, according to police.

Damage totaled $200. No one was injured, police said.

Code Violations
Other week-end activities of the state police included a number of arrests for motor code violations.

Charles Luther Mason, Akron, Ohio, paid a fine of $10 and costs before Justice of the Peace Claude Straley, New Oxford, on a charge of driving through a stop sign.

William R. Bush, Waynesboro, was charged before Justice Ellis Stine with failure to stop at a stop sign.

Mrs. J. C. Dunn, Aspers R. 1, was charged before Justice W. D. Brown, Strasburg township, with having no operator's license.

Two Charges Filed After Disturbance

A disturbance Sunday midnight at the Greyhound post house on North Washington street resulted in the arrest of one man and in the filing of a charge against second.

Borough police said they were called to the post house with a report that Clarence Lochbaum, Gettysburg, and W. L. Gumm, assistant manager, were "fighting." During the disturbance, Lochbaum fell or was knocked against a bus door striking his head and opening a gash that required several stitches at the Warner hospital. He was taken there for treatment by Officer Kenneth Tawney.

Gumm has charged Lochbaum before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore with disorderly conduct and assault and battery. Lochbaum is in jail in default of $300 bail for a hearing this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Officer Tawney has filed a disorderly conduct charge against Burman Beamer, Gettysburg. Tawney said Beamer engaged in an argument with the officer and Gumm. When he was told by the officer to "break it up and go on home," Beamer replied to Tawney that he "couldn't make him." Tawney filed the charge before Justice Bashore who issued a warrant for Beamer.

MILD EPIDEMIC SWEEPS TOWN; CAUSE UNKNOWN

Gettysburg and vicinity is in the grip of a "slight epidemic" which, while not considered serious, has more or less baffled the medical profession.

One doctor called the disease a "sort of grippé," another termed it "intestinal flu." Its principal symptoms are nausea and diarrhea. In some cases it has run its course in 24 hours while in many others it has required three and four days. It has been noted in this community on several occasions during the past two years.

Most of the patients have been violently nauseated in addition to other effects. Some have reported violent pains in the stomach. One doctor said that most of the patients have not been seriously ill but rather have been about "half-sick."

Many Students Ill
At Gettysburg college 31 students were treated at the infirmary and a survey revealed that at least that many more were also affected but not taken to the infirmary. Most of those affected eat their meals at Huber hall. About 80 per cent of the students were coeds.

Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical officer, said the disease could not be directly traced to water or food, although food or drink may be contributing causes. He said that some members of families were stricken while others were not, although all had eaten the same food and drank the same kind of water.

One family reported that two members who drink "very little" water were not affected, while two other members of the family who drink considerable water every day were seriously ill.

One physician said that it "appears to be a contagious" infection. One physician ordered water boiled before drinking.

Mrs. S. Lester Scott Honored At Party

Mrs. S. Lester Scott, East Middle street, was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Routsong, Benderville.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fohl and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Myers, of Idaville; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. John Klinefelter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kitzmiller, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Tawney and Mr. and Mrs. Scott, all of Gettysburg.

WILLS $200 TO CHURCH

The will of Annie Florence Legore, late of Oxford township, has been entered at the office of the county register and recorder. A $200 bequest to Grace Reformed church, Two Taverns, is contained in the will. Charles Givens, Hanover R. 3, is executor of the $2,400 estate.

Clifford C. Harris, 36 East Middle street, has been cited on the dean's honor list at Bucknell university for scholastic excellence during the fall term, the school announced today. Harris is enrolled in the school's commerce and finance course.

$350,000 Fire Loss In Hotel Colonial, York, Early Sunday

York, Pa., March 10 (P)—In a manner likened to a well-rehearsed fire drill, approximately 175 partially-clad guests of the Hotel Colonial fled the structure in the pre-dawn darkness as flames wrecked the upper four floors of the seven-story building, causing an estimated $350,000 damage.

The fire was discovered at 2:58 a. m. yesterday by a motorist driving through Continental square in the heart of this eastern Pennsylvania city. The hotel is located on the square.

Passersby and police aided the hotel staff in awakening guests who used main stairways and fire escapes to reach the street.

"It was like a rehearsed drill," reported Police Lt. C. D. Saylor.

Hotel manager Roy Reid estimated damage at between $200,000 and $250,000.

Owners of several stores on the street level of the structure said their combined damage would exceed $125,000.

Firemen said a firewall built in 1906 and later reinforced in 1929 enabled them to confine the blaze to the upper stories.

Senior Extension, 4-H Clubs To Dine

A banquet for members of the county Senior Extension and 4-H clubs will be held at the York Springs fire hall March 27 at 7 o'clock. Ira N. Dunmire, assistant county agent announced today. Details of the program are not completed.

The Senior Extension basketball team will meet the American Legion team Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the new Oxford high school gymnasium, Dunmire also announced.

PASTOR LAUDS HOLY NAME AT SUNDAY DINNER

"There is no organization better than the Holy Name Society," the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock told 80 members of the local society and their wives Sunday evening at a Holy Name dinner at the Shetter House.

Urging every man in St. Francis Xavier parish to attend the monthly reception of Holy Communion in a body with the society, the church pastor added that the Holy Name Society is "the only one for men directly sponsored by the Catholic church."

C. E. Swisher, one of the charter members of the local society, spoke briefly on the organization of the group and its history and urged all to become members.

Suggests Summer Rally

George F. Eberhart, another longtime member of the local society suggested that the local group bring before the Holy Name Union, made up of societies in Catholic churches in York, Adams and Franklin counties, a plan to hold a huge Holy Name rally here the Sunday immediately preceding July 1 each year in commemoration of the battle here in 1863. "We may not have such a large gathering the first year," he added, "but I believe it could be built into a large affair."

Dr. Joseph H. Riley urged the parents present to "back the Boy Scouts of the parish to the limit," adding that in some other parishes the Holy Name Society directly sponsors the Boy Scout movement in their churches.

Father Stock, who acted as toastmaster at the dinner, urged parents (Please turn to Page 8)

PLAN MISSION OPENING SUNDAY AT ST. FRANCIS

Every Catholic was urged to attend and all non-Catholic were invited to be present at the mission to be held from Sunday, March 16, through March 30 at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock announced at the Sunday masses in the church.

A Vincentian priest, the Rev. Fr. John C. Hallahan, C. M., will be in charge of the mission. Because of the large number expected to attend the first week of the mission will be primarily for women and the second week for men, Father Stock said.

The mission will consist of a course of sermons on the importance of salvation, on sin as the obstacle of salvation, on the great truths of eternity, on particular vices, the beauty of virtue and the love of God for souls. The mission will also include a course of instructions on the (Please turn to Page 8)

CLARK STALEY QUILTS FORCE

The resignation of Officer Clark W. Staley from the Gettysburg borough police force, effective April 1, was announced today by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster.

Officer Staley's decision was announced in a letter received today by Chief Harpster, Burgess C. A. Heiges and R. M. Hoffman, president of the borough council.

The officer's explanation was that he has "obtained employment elsewhere that offers a better opportunity." He declined to say what the new job is.

Staley has been a member of the borough police force since March 7, 1944. His resignation is the second from the local police force in two months. C. William "Bud" Zhea quit in January.

G. R. MARTIN, JR., WEDS SATURDAY IN CASABLANCA

George R. Martin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Martin, Sr., West High street, and Lucienne Puech, daughter of M. Louis Puech, ave de L'Hippodrome, Casablanca, French Morocco, were married at Casablanca Saturday, according to a cablegram received by the family here today.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Gettysburg high school, has been employed as a radio technician by the Trans-World Airways at Casablanca since July. He expects to remain there until this summer when he and his French bride plan to return to the U. S. where young Martin plans to join his father in business here. The elder Mr. Martin is proprietor of a shoe store on Baltimore street.

Martin served three years as a radio technician in the Air Corps during the war, and was stationed in Alaska and Greenland. After his discharge he was a manager of a Regal shoe store before accepting the post with Trans-World last summer.

Letters to his parents here disclosed that while at Casablanca he took advantage of a number of trips to various parts of Europe and Africa. A recent 12,000-mile plane trip included stops at Dakar and places in Liberia.

Littlestown UNION SERVICE IS HELD SUNDAY

The weekly Sunday evening community service was held in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown. The host pastor, Rev. David S. Kammerer, conducted the service. The responsive reading was given by Rev. Robert H. Sheehan, pastor of Centenary Methodist church. Scripture was read by Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church. Prayer was offered by Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor of Christ Reformed church. Rev. Charles B. Rebert, secretary of the ministerium, was in charge of the offering, and gave the benediction. The speaker was Rev. Henry W. Sternat, Biglerville, who used as his sermon theme, "Motives For Worship." Next Sunday evening's service will be held in Redeemer's Reformed church. MRS. HEYSER, 78, KILLED BY CAR IN LITTLESTOWN; DRIVER IS HELD

Mrs. Harriet Virginia Heyser, 78, North Queen street, Littlestown, was killed instantly about 7 o'clock Saturday evening when she was struck by an automobile driven by Bernard F. Flickinger, 29, Littlestown R. 1.

Mrs. Heyser, known as "Jennie" to her friends and neighbors, was attempting to cross North Queen street from west to east in front of the W. D. Sheely residence. Flickinger told Chief of Police Leon H. Gage of Littlestown, who investigated, that the woman started to run across in front of his car which was headed toward Gettysburg.

To Hold Inquest

Dr. L. L. Potter, Littlestown, was summoned but the woman was dead when he arrived. Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, began his investigation which will lead to an inquest, the date of which has not been set. Doctor Crist said Mrs. Heyser died instantly of a compound fracture of the skull, fractures of bones in both legs and internal injuries. Marks on the car's bumper indicated the woman was struck by the left section of the bumper.

Mr. Flickinger, whose wife had been admitted to the Warner hospital late Saturday morning, was enroute to the hospital to visit his wife when the accident occurred. A daughter was born to the Flickingers at the hospital at 7:20 p. m. Saturday. Riding with Mr. Flickinger were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Della Little, Stratton street, Gettysburg, and his 2½-year-old daughter.

Chief Gage said that Flickinger estimated his speed at 25 to 30 miles an hour at the time of the mishap.

File Manslaughter Charge

Flickinger, who lives in Maryland although served from the Littlestown post office, was charged with involuntary manslaughter before Justice of the Peace Howard G. Blocher by Chief Gage, pending the coroner's inquest. He was released on $2,000 bail for a hearing March 19. Chief Gage conducted the investigation following the accident.

Mrs. Heyser was twice married, her first husband being Raymond Wolf. The second was Samuel Heyser. Both men are deceased. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. W. D. Sheely, Littlestown, and one brother, John A. Keefer, Littlestown, also by a number of stepchildren. She was a lifelong member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, and a member of the Mite Society and Sunday school of the church.

Funeral services Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Little funeral home, Littlestown. Her pastor, Rev. David S. Kammerer, officiating. Burial in Mt. Carmel cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9 p. m.

DR. DICKSON IS SPEAKER HERE

"Nothing is as important in this world as the way in which Christian people live from day to day," Dr. Thomas S. Dickson, First Presbyterian church pastor from York, asserted in a sermon on "Light or Blight" at a joint Methodist-Presbyterian Lenten service in the Methodist church Sunday evening.

Declaring that "Mankind is now possessed of such power that he will commit suicide without spiritual illumination," Doctor Dickson said that Christians alone have that "light" and that only Christians can give that light to this generation.

"Christians either will cause men to realize the power of God's righteousness or the world will decide against it. The Christians in this generation have the terrible responsibility of causing the world to choose between Christ and the atomic bomb."

Declaring that Christians attained new responsibilities with the explosion of the atomic bomb over Japan in the summer of 1945, Doctor Dickson said: "The most important fact in the world today is the presence of Christian people. The future of the world will be decided in this generation by the effectiveness or the failure of their witness through their personal living."

The devotional service was conducted by the Revs. Robert M. Hunt and Floyd A. Carroll, pastors of the participating churches. There was special music by a trio from the Methodist choir.

MUST BARGAIN WITH FOREMEN

Washington, March 10 (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that employers must bargain with foremen's unions.

The ruling was made on an appeal by the Packard Motor company of Detroit from a National Labor Relations Board decision. The company contended foremen were not employees within the meaning of the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's five to four decision. Justice Douglas wrote a dissent in which Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Burton concurred.

For the majority, Jackson said: "The context of the (Labor Relations) Act, we think, leaves no room for a construction of the section (involved in this case) to deny the organizational privilege to employees because they act in the interest of an employer. 'Every employee from the very fact of employment in the master's business, is required to act in his interest.'"

The question of whether foremen have the same status as other employees under the Fair Labor Standards Act is one that has long been an issue in industry. Among the new labor laws currently being discussed in Congress are proposals to exempt foremen from the law.

Local Pupils On Air Program Saturday

Mary Catherine Lee, Gettysburg high school sophomore, read an original poem, "To My Mother on Her Birthday," during the Poet Scout program conducted Saturday morning at 11:45 o'clock on WBSA in York by Ray Zaner, former head of the Boy Scouts in this area.

On the same program Gary Wentz of the third grade at the High Street school building read an original poem. Hugh McIlhenny and Nancy Kime, also pupils in the room taught by Miss Margaret Peters at High Street school, were ill and unable to read their poems. Ann McIlhenny, 5-year-old sister of Hugh, recited one of her brother's poems and Mr. Zaner read the other. Nancy Kime's poem is to be read on a later broadcast probably Saturday.

Cigarette Cause Of Blaze On Truck

A cigarette tossed from the window of a truck caused several hundred dollars damage Sunday evening at 5:10 o'clock when the truck, a piano loaded on it and a tarpaulin covering the piano burst into flames about a mile south of here on the Emmitsburg road.

The fire occurred directly in front of the Codori house and Dr. J. Walter Coleman, local National Park superintendent, who resides there, called the fire company and bandaged the hand of the driver of the truck which was burned as he pushed the piano off the truck and put snow on flames about the rear of the vehicle.

The driver, Francis Good, Harrisburg, said he believed a cigarette he threw from the cab of the truck had lodged in the tarpaulin. Good, a returned GI, said he was hauling the piano as a favor for a friend. He had recently purchased the truck.

Danville, Va., March 10 (AP)—Six business establishments were destroyed and the occupants of a nearby rooming house routed from their beds by a half-million dollar fire which swept a city block on Lynn street here early Sunday. There were no injuries in the blaze, which firemen fought under the handicap of sub-freezing weather and a heavy blanket of snow. Fire Chief J. C. Long estimated the loss at $600,000.

WITNESS SAYS LAWYER FEARED BLACKMAILING

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—A prosecution witness testified today at the conspiracy trial of former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson that a Bethlehem Steel company attorney protested he did not "want to be blackmailed by John Memolo," a co-defendant.

The witness, Harry W. Mumford, Scranton attorney, represented Bethlehem steel in 1937 when the Williamsport Wire Rope company was ordered by the former jurist to be sold to Bethlehem for $3,300,000 in foreclosure proceedings.

The 74-year-old former judge, his three sons, Miller A. Johnson, Donald M. Johnson and Capt. Albert W. Johnson, Jr., Memolo, and Jacob Greenes are on trial on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States in disposition of receiverships, bankruptcies and reorganizations while Johnson served as judge. The Williamsport Wire Rope case was one of those mentioned in the indictment.

Protest By Phone

Mumford told the jury of three women and nine men that Hoyt A. Moore, a Bethlehem attorney, made the protest to him in a telephone conversation after Mumford had been asked by Memolo to make arrangements for a meeting of Moore and Memolo in New York.

Memolo was a court-appointed attorney in the Williamsport Wire Rope receivership case.

Federal District Judge James Alger Fee, specially presiding, interrupted the testimony to announce that one of the two alternate jurors, Mrs. Bessie Snyder, Mt. Union, had been taken ill and probably would be discharged as a juror.

Under cross examination by Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for the Johnsons, Mumford testified that sale of the Wire Rope company to Bethlehem was postponed "at least twice" after the former jurist expressed an opinion that additional bidders might be obtained.

Government counsel indicted they expected to wind up their case during the day.

Wanted "Killing"

Mumford testified before the trial was adjourned over the week-end that Memolo, then co-counsel for the receivers of the Wire Rope concern, sought his aid in arranging a conference for him with Hoyt A. Moore, New York attorney of the Bethlehem Steel company, quoting Memolo as saying he "could be of service if he knew what Bethlehem wanted."

Mumford added Memolo spoke "frankly" with him and said "the boys want to get a killing" in the receivership, mentioning a figure "something like $200,000."

BULLETS TAKE SECOND PLACE IN MAT EVENTS

Clyde Cole's Gettysburg college wrestling team took second place in the ninth annual Middle Atlantic Collegiate Wrestling Association championships held Friday and Saturday at Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J., with Rutgers taking first place.

The Bullets tallied 27 points while the Scarlet outfit earned 40 points. Other teams finished as follows: Muhlenberg, 24; Lafayette, 11; Swarthmore, 6; and Haverford, 5.

Reigel Outstanding
Russ Reigel, 155, won the final in his class and was voted outstanding wrestler in the tournament. Reigel defeated D. Kelley, Swarthmore, 4-1 in the semi-final which was the first defeat suffered by Kelley in two years. In the final he gained a 4-1 decision over Ford, Rutgers. Ford had previously been unbeaten in nine bouts this year in the 165-pound class.

Ted Lenker, 128, was the other Gettysburg winner in the finals, gaining a 6-0 victory over Fischer, Rutgers. Lenker took the semi-final match from R. Amelio, Muhlenberg, 3-2.

Third places were gained for the Bullets by Dick Sassaman, 145, who gained a 6-0 decision over Whidden, Lafayette, and Reider, heavyweight, who won on a forfeit from Schler, Lafayette.

Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director at Gettysburg college, was elected president of the Wrestling Association of the organization at a meeting Saturday.

Next year's tournament will be held at Swarthmore.

Erie Women Lead In State Tourney

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—One doubles score of 1,001 pins, made by a pair of Erie bowlers, led the field in the class A doubles division of the Ninth Annual State Women's Bowling tournament.

The Erie pair, who just managed to pass the 1,000 mark, were Irene Bojarski, and Norma Thompson, and their total served to displace from leadership Mildred Soliday and Helen Karil, of Lebanon.

In class B doubles the top score was made by another Erie team, Maude Brown and Marie Buckel, with a total of 955.

The class A singles lead was held by Anna Johnson of Hazleton with 550 pins, while in class B singles the best score was a 499 chalked up by Ruth Jonas of Lancaster.

Helen Karil, of Lebanon, placed second in class A singles with a 524 total, and Adelaide Juliana, Warren, fifth with 510.

TRAINING CAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

(By The Associated Press)

In case Teddy Williams, the Boston Red Sox power hitter, had any doubts about the opposition using the now famous Boubreau or Dyer or what-have-you shift against him this year, that doubt probably no longer lingers today.

In his very first appearance against a rival team yesterday, the left-handed larruper found six of the Philadelphia Phillies lined up on the right side of the diamond with only Jim Tabor at his normal third base position.

Others Will Use It
It is hard to say whether the scheme was a success since Ted walked and fled out in two trips to the place, but it is a safe guess that many other clubs will give it a try.

Anyway, Williams, who had such little luck against that type of defense in the last world series, will have plenty of opportunities to work out a system of his own to combat that peculiar setup before the championship American league season gets underway April 14.

Without Williams' help, the Red Sox won the game 5-2.

Other training camp notes:
Phoenix, Ariz.—The New York Giants jubilation over Rookie outfielder Clint Hartung's great showing in the 8-7 victory over the Cleveland Indians was softened by the news that Second Baseman Mickey Witek had suffered a broken left arm when he attempted to tag Pitcher Gene Bearden in the sixth inning. Hartung was the whole show as he whacked three doubles and a single, scored three runs including the winning run in the ninth inning, whipped out two runners on the basepaths, made four putouts in left field and stole a base.

Riddle Seeks Comeback
Tampa, Fla.—Elmer Riddle, last Cincinnati pitcher to win more than 20 games in a season (21-11 in 1943), worked out with the squad and was hopeful of making a comeback this year. He went on the voluntarily retired list last spring when there was no improvement in his lame arm.

Miami, Fla.—Manager Muddy Ruel of the St. Louis Browns was heartened by the showing of Veteran Outfielder Jeff Heath and Pitcher Denny Galehouse who led the Browns to their first spring victory after six failures. Heath's homer highlighted the 6-4 win over Pittsburgh while Galehouse allowed no hits and one walk in his three-inning mound chore.

Miami Beach, Fla.—The Pittsburgh Pirates suffered their first cut in their 47-man squad today when General Manager Roy Haney announced that Hank Gornicki, a 32-year old righthander, who was used only for relief work last year, had been sold outright to the Bucs' Indianapolis American Association farm.

Interstate Loop Adopts Schedule
Conshohocken, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Sunbury, Harrisburg, Lancaster and Allentown will host the opening four games of the Class B interstate baseball league April 30.

The loop, in disclosing the 1947 140-game schedule yesterday, announced that Hagerstown (Md.), York, Wilmington (Del) and Trenton (N.J.) will open their home season May 2.

The interstate ends its season September 7.

Sunbury will be at home to Hagerstown April 30; Harrisburg entertains York; Allentown is home to Trenton, and Lancaster plays host to Wilmington.

On May 2, Lancaster meets York; Allentown goes to Hagerstown, Harrisburg to Wilmington and Sunbury to Trenton.

All clubs, except York, Harrisburg and Trenton, will play ten Sunday home games. The other three will play nine Sundays.

Lock Haven Wins At State College

Indiana, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Wrestlers from Lock Haven State Teachers college won the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Championship tournament here Saturday with 47 points to 28 for second place Indiana State Teachers college.

Other team scores were Clarion, 16 points; California 15; Edinboro 14 and Bloomsburg 5.

Lock Haven won first places in the 121 pound, 145 pound, and 175 pound classes.

34 TEAMS LEFT IN PIAA CAGE TITLE PLAYOFF

By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—Only 34 teams remain in the race for the State's class A scholastic basketball title, with 23 destined to be eliminated this week enroute to the eleven district finals.

Allentown's defending state titleholders will rest until Thursday, when Coach J. Birney Crum takes his high flying Canaries back to the University of Pennsylvania Pelestra to meet the winner of tomorrow night's game between Nesquehoning and Catawauqua in a district eleven final.

Radnor, defending champion in district one, swings into action against Coatesville in a semi-final round game at Penn's palestra, and Williamsport district four titleholder, clashes with Coal township at Bucknell University in eastern features on tonight's program.

Playoff Here
In the west the fast stepping Duquesne high five tangles with Wilkinsburg at the University of Pitt stadium in a district seven semi-final, and Sharpville, seeking to regain the district ten championship, faces Erie east in another semi-final fray. Somerset and Berlin meet at Davidsville in a district five semi-final to complete tonight's list.

Seven more games are listed for tomorrow night, with Norristown, unbeaten in 23 starts, engaging Ridley township in another district one semi-final. Two games are booked for district three, with Chambersburg meeting Red Lion at Gettysburg and Lancaster, defending champion, tackling Muhlenberg township at Lebanon.

Another set of semi-finals will be played in district six where Altoona journeys to Penn State to face South Williamsport, and Westmont, new tri-county king, clashes with Conemaugh at Johnstown.

The Western feature finds Ford City tangle with Aliquippa at Pitt stadium, while in district eleven it will be Nesquehoning against Catawauqua.

PLAYOFF TILT HERE TUESDAY

Another huge crowd is expected to jam the Gettysburg college gymnasium Tuesday night when Chambersburg and Red Lion high schools meet in a District 3 Class A PIAA basketball playoff contest.

Red Lion, a division titlist in the York county league, eliminated Columbia high last Friday evening 44-36 to gain the right to meet the Trojans.

Chambersburg copped the South Penn loop title for the fourth straight time here last Wednesday night by turning back Hershey 46-37.

Tuesday's contest will be one of two semi-finals in the district, Muhlenberg Township clashing with Lancaster high at Lebanon.

The winners will meet for the district title Saturday evening on the Hershey Industrial school court. Doors to the gymnasium will open at 7 o'clock with the game getting underway at 8 o'clock.

Tickets will be placed on sale at Gettysburg high school on Tuesday. No seats will be reserved.

5 Records Broken In Swimming Meet

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—Slippery Rock State Teachers college defeated Carnegie Tech, Westminster and the Edinboro State Teachers college Saturday to win the Third Annual Penn-Ohio College Swimming association meet. Five conference records were broken.

Slippery Rock scored 64 points to 43 for Tech, 32 for Westminster and 25 for Edinboro.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
State College, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Bob Higgins, Penn State's veteran football coach, can't figure out one brand of reasoning in his business.

... A coach who has a couple of bad seasons is liable to be fired, Bob points out, no matter how many good ones he's had before that.

But when it comes to getting a replacement, the school doesn't necessarily go after a guy with a winning record. ... Couple of examples are Biggie Munn and Wes Fesler, who didn't set the world afire by winning games at Syracuse and Pitt but came up with a pair of choice midwestern coaching jobs. ... Incidentally, Bob isn't worried about his own position. He's been here almost as long as the mountains and has done all right. Right now he's studying "T" formation plays, preparing to experiment with them this spring.

NOT COLOR BLIND
Higgins' decision to start spring drills on St. Patrick's day, "just because I'm a little sentimental," reminded Roy Simmons, whose Syracuse boxing team won the Eastern Intercollegiate title here last weekend, of another Irishman who was a bit sentimental about March 17.

"This boy Joe Moran was fighting in the tournament final for me on St. Patrick's Day," Simmons related. ... "All the rest of our boxers were dressed up in their bright orange jerseys, orange-trimmed trunks and blue and orange bathrobes when I noticed Moran wasn't there. ... I couldn't locate him anywhere until just as his bout was called. Then he rushed down the aisle, with his overcoat thrown over him instead of a robe. He was wearing a plain white skivvy shirt and he had taken the orange ribbon off his trunks, got some green somewhere and fashioned a shamrock for decoration. He won the fight."

MONDAY MATINEE
Bob Polidor, who made a 109-yard touchdown run for Villanova last fall, is an outfield candidate on the baseball squad this spring. He's plenty fast but won't have to run so far there. ... Pitcher Billy Rose, coming up with the Newark Bears, won 16 games in a row for Pond Du Lac of the Wisconsin State league last summer that should prove he isn't the night club Billy Rose.

Bucknell Upsets Muhlenberg Quint

(By The Associated Press)
Collegiate basketball in Pennsylvania neared completion of the 1946-47 court schedule today after 18 keystone state quintets saw action over the week-end.

Eight teams made marksmanship pay off to turn in well-earned triumphs, while the other ten schools added another loss to the record books.

Dickinson had to score better than two points a minute to defeat Drexel, 81-73; Ursinus drubbed Pennsylvania Military college, 80-52; California Teachers walloped Shippensburg Teachers, 75-57; Albright had little trouble defeating Lincoln, 56-49; Mansfield Teachers laced Millersville Teachers, 69-48; Lafayette edged Swarthmore, 47-43; Bucknell turned sharpshooter to upset highly-rated Muhlenberg, 84-65; Penn State nosed out Colgate, 71-68.

Carnegie Tech resumed its losing ways, after scoring its third win of the season last week, falling 92-48 to powerful West Virginia; and Pennsylvania missed its last chance to end up in second place in the Ivy league by bowing to Columbia, 68-59.

New York—John Kramer and Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, national tennis champions, added the U. S. indoor titles to their collection. Kramer defeated Bob Falkenberg, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. Miss Betz conquered Doris Hart, Miami, Fla., 6-2, 7-5.

Boxing
State College, Pa.—Syracuse captured the team title of the Intercollegiate Boxing Association with 18 points.

Havanna, March 10 (AP)—The largest crowd in Havana boxing history—25,000 who paid close to $50,000—saw World Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis meat-axe two sparring partners in an exhibition here last night.

When Louis entered the ring he was presented with a Cuban flag, and the Cuban and United States national anthems were played. The champ and his party are to leave by plane for Los Angeles tomorrow.

BLUE RIBBON COURT EVENTS CARDS FILLED

New York, March 10 (AP)—The cards for college basketball's blue ribbon events, the NCAA and National Invitation tournament, virtually were completed today with selection of North Carolina state and Bradley of the N.I.T.

The only vacant berths, two in the NIT and two in the NCAA, probably will be filled in a day or two. The N.I.T. bids are expected to be given to New York quintets—St. John's of Brooklyn and either Long Island U. or City college, Syracuse, Connecticut and Santa Clara still have a chance.

This is the tournament picture:
Eastern NCAA
District One—Holy Cross (23-3).
District Two—unnamed. Columbia has inside track.

District Three—Navy (16-1).
District Four—unnamed. Six teams under consideration. Wisconsin (15-5) first choice. Notre Dame (20-24). Loyola of Chicago (20-9). De Paul (16-9). Illinois (15-5) and Indiana (10-8).

Western NCAA
District Five—Oklahoma (20-6) or St. Louis (18-9) whichever wins playoff game on March 17.
District Six—Texas (24-1). South-west conference champ.

District Seven—Wyoming (22-4). Big Seven titleholder.
District Eight—Oregon State (27-4). Pacific coast conference champion.

National invitation:
Six teams, Kentucky (32-2), West Virginia (18-1), Duquesne (21-1), Utah (16-5), North Carolina State (24-4) and Bradley of Peoria, Ill. (25-5), have been named to the Madison Square Garden tournament.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE THING AT HAND

If we could only live a day at a time—but who does, who can? Beset with so many problems that are so distinctly personal, and with a world in frightened state, and the best of minds confused, it is no wonder that with the dawn of but a single new day, there are question-ings and forebodings.

Is it not then the greater part of wisdom to just live one day at a time, and to do the best that one can, with the means and opportunity that one has, with no thought beyond? In other words, just do what lies nearest at hand, and do it with zest and enthusiasm?

There is a veil drawn across every Tomorrow—Today! We cannot afford to allow any day to pass uneventfully. It may be the summing up of all our days—this one day of ours.

"Listen to the Exhortation of the Dawn!
Look to this Day!
For it is Life, the very Life of Life."

There are more things at hand for us to do—this very day—than many of us realize. A single smile may make it significant! Or one thoughtful, kind deed. Or the completing, by way of invoice, the enumeration of our endless blessings, in an appreciative mood. Just to be glad and happy, sends an invisible influence afar!

We should follow the gleam of our brightest hope—and keep our chin up—so as not to miss a single vision ahead! The habit of the day is the lesson in character. Every time we dodge the simplest opportunity for useful service, we dodge the substance of life itself. The structure of our lives is made up of atoms—thoughts, resolves, actions, and picking up here and there, memories—and enlivening them—putting them to further use in comforting our days.

Great lives have been built up through this plan of living one day
at a time, and by doing of the thing,
or things, that lie closest at hand.
Perhaps, after all, therein lies the secret of happiness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Beaten Paths"

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People
TO ALL AMERICANS

I wonder often, when I hear
That Communists are lurking near,
What is there to the stuff they preach

And strive so secretly to teach—
That an American would heed
Or want to follow as a creed?

What pleadings can the Commies make
That man his freedom would forsake?

What can the Communists bestow That's better than the life we know?
Ask him, at us who dares to scoff,
Where are the people better off?

Are Russians happy and content
Beneath their one-man government?
Are Russians free to God to pray
As conscience points to them the way?

What are the evils, far and wide,
That iron curtain's kept to hide?
As Hamlet to his mother cried:
"Sense sure you have." How then decide

The hills of freedom to forego—
The swamps of tyranny to know—
While our beloved country stands
The best and happiest of lands?

be guarded against.

We are very glad to be able to state, as we do positively and ad-visedly, that we have no Small Pox in Gettysburg, and have not had a case for several years. We presume the rumors grew out of a case of "chicken-pox" several weeks ago in a colored family on the southern border of town, which by reason of the sensitive condition of the public mind, was at once credited to small-pox.

A few years ago there were twelve or fifteen patients at one time in the Alms-house. Yet the small pox did not spread or become epidemic.
In a healthy community, like ours,
it is very easy to "stamp it out" by proper sanitary measures.

Vaccination, by the common assent
of the Medical profession, is regarded as the most efficient agency to check its progress and stamp it out. Revaccination is desirable after some years have run. Hence our advice to all is—prompt Vaccination.

clined to let them go at that figure.

DUFF EXPECTED TO RECOMMEND BIG NEW TAXES

Harrisburg, arch 10 (P)—About $100,000,000 in new taxes—but without either a general sales or income levy—is expected to be recommended by Governor Duff when he presents his budget to the Pennsylvania General Assembly tomorrow.

The over-all total of the budget,
allocating the Commonwealth's revenue for the 1947-49 biennium, was estimated at $750,000,000 some $50-000,000 higher than the 1945-47
total.

The budget total for the present
biennium, however, included $165-000,000 surplus funds carried over from the 1943-45 biennium, which was appropriated by the 1945 Legislature for various state purposes.

Tax Proposals
Governor Duff, since his inauguration, has pointed to a need for general taxes to meet increased costs of operating the state government and to expand facilities put off during the war but has refused to intimate the type of taxes he favors.

Among money-raising proposals
suggested were:
A tax on bottled soft drinks, a new source of state revenue.

Continuance of a five-mill capitol stock tax on manufacturers due to expire on May 31 under a wartime law.

An increase in the beer tax to double revenue from that source.

Sales Tax
An increase of one cent to three cents of the levy on each pack of cigarettes and a new tax on other tobacco products.

Various other sources of revenue that have figured in pre-budget discussion, principally outside the Assembly, include increases in inheritance tax rates, an increase in the corporate net income tax, a levy on real estate of public utilities, now tax exempt, and a boost of the gasoline tax.

The suggestion for a general sales tax or a flat income tax to finance a salary increase for school teachers of the state came from the executive committee of the state school commission, an agency of the Legislature. Bills pending to increase minimum salaries $1,000 a year from $1,400 to $2,400 will cost $75,000,000 a year, it was estimated. There has also been discussion of giving teachers a cost-of-living bonus of $300 to $500 without changing the present minimum salary level.

A $50,000,000 bond issue authorized for postwar projects also is available for financing the budget and Demo-

Parents Face Charges Cruelty To Children

Meadville, Pa., March 10 (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Morris Tracy, of Troy township, were remanded to Crawford county jail after pleading innocent to charges of cruelty, abandonment and contributing to the delinquency of their nine children.

The couple was unable to furnish bond of $1,000 each at their arraigment yesterday before Alderman
S. G. Macnearnahan on a complaint filed by County Commissioner Harry L. Wentworth.

Wentworth said the children, from two to 13 years old, were found Friday hungry and half-frozen in their home where they had been alone for five days.

He said the children, now temporarily sheltered in various homes,
would become wards of the county.
The parents will be given a hearing
March 20.

MRS. BARKLEY DIES

Washington, March 10 (P)—Mrs.
Alben W. Barkley, wife of the Kentucky Senator, died at 8 a. m. today after a long illness. She was 64.
Death was attributed to a heart ailment. Mrs. Barkley, the former Miss Dorothy Brower, was born November 14, 1882, at Mayfield, Va., the daughter of Charles R. Brower and Laura Matilda Thomas Brower.
She and Senator Barkley were mar-

FOR WANT OF A LADDER

Kansas City, (P)—Firemen at No.
29 station had to turn in an alarm
for help in putting out a small blaze at their own firehouse. A motorist discovered the blaze yesterday under the eaves of the two-story building,
and the firemen found they needed
a ladder. But they had none. Their's is a pumper station. So, reluctantly, the firemen rang the gong, and four companies raced to their aid—bringing ladders.

crats have urged revival of the general state authority to finance expansion of state institutions without need for tax revenue.

EXPECT U.S. TO WIN ATOM MOVE

Lake Success, N. Y., March 10 (P)
—Despite expected Russian opposition, the United States appeared certain today of winning its fight to refer the controversial atomic report back to the United Nations Atomic Energy commission.

Renewal of the atomic debate at 3 p. m. (EST) highlighted a heavy week ahead for the security council as U. N. delegates faced these possible developments:

1. Great Britain was expected to file formally with the United Nations the explosive Palestine problem
as a result of an American request for clarification of the Holy Land issue.

2. The security council was expected to accept the U. S. plan to place the Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific under a U. N. strategic area trusteeship which would give America control of the Marshalls, Marianas and Carolines.

3. A three-nation council sub-committee prepared to report its findings on Great Britain's mine-laying complaint against Albania.

4. Before U. N. delegates was a petition from the native leaders of Western Samoa for complete self-government with the protection of New Zealand, which now administers the territory under a trust agreement.

As the council assembled to resume
the atomic control discussions, American Delegate Warren R. Austin was prepared to give a sharp reply to Russia's charges that the United States seeks a world monopoly in atomic energy. Austin was expected to emphasize U. S. willingness to share atomic secrets with the world
upon drafting of proper safeguards.

county Agricultural Extension office
at the court house.

The courses include such things
as plant life, farm drainage, plant propagation, farm bookkeeping,
sheep husbandry, stock feeding,
butter making, beef production,
grain crops, clovers and grasses,
market gardening, swine husbandry,
beekeeping, dressing and curing meats, orchard fruits, farm forestry, farm building, canning and preserving, dairy breeds of cattle, silos,
poultry keeping, farm chemistry,
commercial fruit growing, insect control, farm management, potato production, soil conservation, farm refrigeration and modernizing the homestead. A large number of other courses in home economics and farm management are also available.

Compulsory Plan Is Only Proposal So Far

Washington, March 10 (P)—A group of congressmen told the House labor committee today that although representatives of both unions and management have expressed "horror"
at compulsory arbitration, no one has suggested anything better.

Rep. Auchincloss (R-N. J.), said
some witnesses have expressed "horror" and looked upon compulsory arbitration as "un-American." But, he asserted in testimony prepared for the committee, it is still the "only alternative because the welfare of our country will not permit matters to drift any longer."

Rep. Clifford Case (R-N. J.), said work stoppages 'can no longer be tolerated where the public health and safety are endangered.' He said that strike dangers "are not past"
and may return in "acute" form in a few weeks.

HOLLYHOCK IS MOST ADMIRED OF BIENNIALS

Hollyhocks (Althea rosea), so reminiscent of old-fashioned gardens, and yet ever popular in our gardens of today, are one of the most admired of all biennials. Because of their lovely soft colors, and because they attain a height of from six to eight feet, they are particularly pleasing planted along a wall, a picket fence, or on either side of a doorway, and are most attractive as background plants in the border. They also produce a striking effect when planted in combination with young shrubs or along the margin of a thin woodland.

There are both single and double forms ranging in color from white to red, salmon, Newport pink, pale purple, yellow, scarlet, crimson to purple and maroon. The single-flowered plants will last for several years, while those that produce fully double blooms seldom persist for more than two years. The first year is taken up with the formation of a sturdy plant, while in the summer of the second year the showy, tall spikes produce a gorgeous display of brightly colored flowers.

Thrives in Full Sun
Hollyhocks do well in either full sun or light shade. Sowings made in the cold frame or in a sheltered bed in May or June will develop into strong plants well able to withstand severe winter weather. Transplant the seedlings to their permanent location with the approach of fall to permit the roots to become well established before the arrival of winter temperatures. During the winter a light cover of evergreen boughs will keep the young crowns shaded and will relieve undue pressure from heavy snows.

Deeply prepared light, well drained soil of a neutral or slightly alkaline reaction is to their liking. Applications of leafmold and a complete fertilizer help develop the plants to their full beauty. Since hollyhocks reseed readily once they are established, it is seldom necessary to make additional sowings, and the self-sown seedlings may be transplanted to any position in the garden. The only disadvantage to this method is the fact that these self-sown seedlings will produce a variety of colorings, which make it impossible to carry out a definite color plan. However, if only soft, pastel shades are used in the original planting, the colors will blend harmoniously and mixed seedlings usually are very lovely.

Because of their robust habit of growth, hollyhocks should be given ample space for their development and should be planted from two to two and a half feet apart. As soon as the blooms have faded, the flower stalks should be cut down unless seed is to be produced.

A common disease affecting hollyhocks is rust, which is indicated by the leaves and stems becoming covered with raised pustules, a light, rusty-brown in color. If the infection is severe the whole plant may wither and die, but in mild cases the lower leaves are killed, but the plant continues to grow and flower. To control, protect the new leaves in the fall with an application of fine sulphur, making sure to apply it from the underside, and repeat the operation as soon as the leaves appear in the spring, with additional dustings at ten-day intervals until the flower buds show. Cut all hollyhock plants down to the ground in the autumn and burn the stalks, leaves and all other refuse.

Five Of Family Injured In Fire

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP) — Trapped in their flame-swept home after a stove exploded, five members of a South Philadelphia family were burned or injured early today.

Mrs. Dorothy Semensky, 25, was burned seriously in an attempt to shield her four-year-old daughter Lucille from the fire. Mrs. Victoria Semensky, her mother-in-law, suffered internal injuries and a leg fracture leaping from a second-story window.

Lucille and her father, John, 25, a war veteran, were hospitalized with less serious burns. Peter Semensky, John's father, was treated at Mt. Sinai hospital and later discharged.

"BLESSING ON THE DAY I FOUND RHU-AID"—HER RHEUMATIC PAINS END!

One lady recently took RHU-AID three days and said afterward that she never would have believed such a "wonder medicine" existed. She says she couldn't raise her left arm more than a few inches. Rheumatic pains afflicted the muscles of her shoulder and arm. She could hardly move the fingers on her left hand. Now this lady's rheumatic pains are gone since she got RHU-AID and she says she can use her left arm as well as her right, in fact, she says she simply blesses the day she got this medicine and she feels like an altogether different woman.

RHU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medicinal ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable aches soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold by all Drug Stores here in Gettysburg.

Garden Activities For March Listed

Place orders for seeds and nursery stock to be planted this spring. Remove all dead wood and injured branches from ornamentals and fruit trees.

Inspect trees, shrubs and evergreens planted last fall to make sure the soil is firm around the roots and that all stakes are secure.

Spray pear trees, lilacs, flowering almond and flowering quince for scale.

Loosen the mulching material that has been packed down by rain and snow but do not remove it.

Disinfect the soil used for seed sowing as well as the seeds to prevent damping off.

The removal of winter coverings from shrubs, beds and borders should be gradual and governed by the prevailing weather.

Start forcing lily-of-the-valley now for Easter.

Order dormant roses for delivery when soil is right for planting.

Shade choice broad-leaved and other evergreens from the bright sun and strong winds of March.

Early spring is the ideal time to plant fruit trees. Orders should be placed now for delivery at planting time.

Flower seeds suitable for indoor sowing now are galliardia, delphinium, salvia, Vinca rosea, lobelia, dahlia, annual campanula, snap dragon, verbenia, heliotrope, lantana and torenia.

REGAL LILY IS EASY TO GROW, SUN OR SHADE

Of the dozen or so hardy lilies that can be grown successfully by the majority of amateur gardeners, none has become so popular as the regal lily, Lilium regale.

This wonderful treasure was discovered in Min Valley, China, by the late E. H. Wilson, who also brought many other outstanding horticultural plants to this country. While some lilies require rather exacting growing conditions, the regal lily does well in either heavy or light soil and does not seem to care whether lime is present. It does well in full sun but is equally good in the semi-shade.

The large trumpet-shaped flowers are pure white within, and more or less shaded with light purple on the outside. There also is now available a pure-white form.

Under average conditions the plants grow about four feet tall, but where they feel perfectly at home may grow as much as seven feet in height, with twenty or more blooms to a stem.

Plant Spring or Fall

The bulbs are available for planting either in early spring or fall. If they are kept in proper storage over winter, spring planting will give as good results as fall planting. Follow the general rule of placing them two or three times as deep as they are high. The lighter the texture of the soil, the deeper they may be planted. Some gardeners cover them with seven inches of soil measuring from the soil surface to the tip of the bulbs and find they do well that way. Of course, such deep planting is successful only where the soil is not too heavy, and is well drained.

BOYHOOD SOUVENIR

Catskill, N. Y., (AP)—A trip to the dentist uncovered a 25-year-old mystery for Sgt. Paul Kelly of the Catskill police department. X-rays revealed a piece of metal in Kelly's jaw. After probing, the dentist removed a B-B shot. Kelly could not recall ever having been shot, but an older brother remembered that Paul had gotten in the way of a B-B shot when playing "cops and robbers" more than 25 years ago.

Use Of DDT For Fruit Spraying

Many orchardists, particularly owners of but a small number of trees for home use, are puzzled in the matter of using DDT for control of certain insect pests. Commercial orchardists are not agreed on the subject. Some acknowledge the advisability of adding this new insecticide to sprays for control of codling moth; others are afraid numerous friendly parasites will be killed by it and thereby cause an increase in the numbers of minor pests. The advice offered below is intended mainly to guide small growers. Commercial growers should first consult their County Farm Agent before making the final decision about DDT.

Investigations and tests to date indicate that DDT is very effective against codling moths (apple worms). But dosages sufficient to cause a wholesale destruction of the codling moth appear ineffective against various species of mites, the woolly apple aphid and red-banded leaf roller. On the other hand, as already suggested, DDT obviously kills off many natural enemies of these minor insect foes and thereby may actually increase infestations of certain mites, aphids and leaf rollers.

Pennsylvania recommendations are apparently made on the safe side of the question. DDT is advised mainly on rolling slopes and in old orchards where codling moths emerge over a longer period than they do on single slopes and in young orchards. No DDT is recommended for early varieties of apples and none is advised for peaches, cherries and plums. And where DDT is used with the exceptions here.

Irwin, Pa., March 10 (AP) — City and state police joined the FBI and postal inspectors today in a search for robbers who entered the Irwin post office early Saturday and escaped with nearly $1,000 in cash and an undetermined quantity of stamps.

noted, more emphasis is placed on careful application of dormant and delayed-dormant sprays to insure a higher rate of kill of aphids and mites.

Maryland recommendations stress the point that red mite injury may increase where DDT is employed as the chief weapon against codling moths. Too, the residue problem is mentioned, as late applications to curb late broods may prove difficult to remove sufficiently to comply with federal requirements.

The editor advises owners of but a few apple trees or orchards grown mainly for home use to follow the former spraying programs—lime-sulphur or flotation sulphur paste to combat fungous ills, will lead arsenate as the main insecticide. Free copies of our 1947 apple spray program for home orchards and backyard trees will be furnished readers on request. Owners should write for this at once. This program is especially suited for those who do not have the advantages of modern spraying equipment.

From the home fruit grower's standpoint it appears safe to suggest that widespread use of DDT in the apple program this year is not advisable. It should be definitely established first just how many other pests may actually increase through its use. Therefore, arsenate of lead remains the favorite standby. Use of oil sprays in the dormant and delayed-dormant applications is advised to control European red mites. Red-banded leaf rollers can be adequately controlled in the early cover sprays by lead arsenate, providing the under sides of the leaves are carefully coated. The woolly apple aphid is best curbed with nicotine sulfate.

Readers who have any unanswered questions on the important subject of fruit sprays should write the editor at once. All question marks should be removed by the time spraying begins. Doubts as well as delays may mean the loss of much valuable fruit.

Garden Activities For Early March

Hardwood ashes are an excellent and roses. Keep them dry and apply as soon as cultivation starts.

Clean bird houses and set up new ones in preparation for the coming of the birds.

Shade choice broad-leaved and other evergreens from the bright sun and strong winds of March.

The pruning of trees should be completed before the sap starts to run.

It is a good plan to start sweet-peas early so the plants will be well established when warmer weather arrives. Outdoor sowing can be done in mid-March if the soil is in workable condition.

Start Begonias

Order dormant roses for delivery when soil is right for planting.

This is a good time to start corns of tuberous-rooted begonias. Plant them in shallow boxes filled with peat moss. Make sure they are placed in the correct, upright position. The rounded part is the base and the concave is the top. Keep them in a temperature of 65 degrees.

Early spring is the ideal time to plant fruit trees. Orders should be placed now for delivery at planting time.

Flower seeds suitable for indoor sowing now are galliardia, delphinium, salvia, Vinca rosea, lobelia, dahlia, annual campanula, snap dragon, verbenia, heliotrope, lantana and torenia.

If you have facilities to grow early vegetables, tomatoes, eggplants cauliflower, early cabbage and broccoli may be started indoors.

Sow Seeds Thinly

It is important to sow seeds thinly. Fine seeds need no covering at all but larger seeds should be covered about twice as deep as their smallest diameter. Place a pane of glass over the container after sowing to create a humid atmosphere around the seeds and to prevent sudden temperature changes. As most seed germinate more rapidly in the dark, place several thicknesses of newspaper over the glass pane, but as soon as seedlings appear, uncover the seed pan.

Ginkgo Tree Is Growing in Favor

The ginkgo or maidenhair tree (Ginkgo biloba) has been rather neglected by the gardening public in the past, but is steadily growing in favor as its merits become appreciated. The Chinese and Japanese, however, for ages have appreciated the beauty of this tree, and have taken great pride in the fine old specimens planted by the priests about their temples.

Although a native of northern China, the ginkgo tree until recently was unknown as a wild tree, all the cultivated specimens having been derived from the ancient trees planted about the temples. Aside from its value to gardeners, it is of special interest to botanists, for it is the only remaining species and the only genus of the family Ginkgoaceae, once a widely distributed group reaching back to the Carboniferous Age.

William Gilbert, Queen Elizabeth's physician, coined the word electric. Bolivia won its freedom from Spain in 1825.

Chickcharney Curse Almost Lost The War For The Allies

Nassau, Bahamas, March 10 (AP)—If you want to know who really almost cost the Allies the war, it was the terrible curse of the Chickcharneys—Bahama's tree-dwelling cousins of the Irish Leprechauns.

They put a fearsome hex on Neville Chamberlain, those terrible little men, when the late prime minister was a youth managing his father's Sisal Hemp plantation on Andros, largest Bahamian island.

Andros is the home of the legendary Chickcharneys, three-toed and three-fingered white little men and women with malicious powers who live in trees and hate to be disturbed. They range from 12 to 18 inches in height, have pink fixed and staring eyes, long noses that hang over toothless and almost chinless mouths, and the men sport flame-red beards. They are sun worshippers and rise and set with the sun.

Sunset Ritual

A rum-soaked native, the only man known ever to have observed their ritual and lived, awoke near sunset one day and peering through a bush that cloaked him, saw this scene:

Thousands of Chickcharneys carrying snakes to hundreds of small burning pots in the beach, where the reptiles were cooked in thick stews. At a signal from their leader the little men raced into the sea and bathed.

Scrubbed clean, they ran back and anointed their bodies with snake oil from the boiling pots to make them supple. Then they put on their clothing—an almond leaf in front, another almond leaf behind, and a straw headress. Each had a small bow to hunt fish and game. Over the right shoulder hung their quiver full of small arrows and over the left was slung a conch shell.

They lined up in formation, chanted a hymn and blew a long salute on the conch horns to the sun just as it sank below the horizon. As the elfin music faded the Chickcharneys leaped into the trees, swinging like tiny Tarzans from limb to limb, and disappeared.

Curse On Chamberlain

Natives believe that if they glimpse a Chickcharney and avert their head and walk away, nothing will happen. But if you bump into one suddenly face to face, there is only one way to avert the little British colonial gremlin's evil rage. That is to press the thumb and little finger tightly into the palm and hold up your hand. The Chickcharney sees only the three fingers and lets you pass—figuring you are a human being just like himself.

Chamberlain, the legend goes, incurred their anger in this wise: He was building a railroad across his plantation. A large tree believed by superstitious natives to be a favorite haunt of the Chickcharneys was in the path. The natives refused to cut it down.

"Boss man he lookin' fer trouble," said an old granny.

Chamberlain impatiently imported a crew of men from Nassau who chopped down the tree and built the railroad across its site. The Chickcharneys, natives said, immediately laid a lifelong curse upon him. Soon after the plantation failed and Chamberlain returned to England.

The Curse Removed

Many years later old man Mose, on a visit to Nassau, heard about the second World War. The news hadn't penetrated to the swamps of his native Andros. When old Mose learned Chamberlain was prime minister he said:

"Den we gon' lose dis war. Duh Chickcharneys don't like dat man." Sometime later old Mose was informed that Winston Churchill was in power. Much relieved, he opined: "Now we gonna win. Duh Chickcharneys hab'n enny grudge 'gin him. Dat'll save us."

And sure enough the Allies did win. And do you know what happened to the rusted steel rails of Chamberlain's abandoned railroad? They were dug up and sent to Britain as wartime scrap metal.

The Chickcharneys are free again to hide in the foliage and worship the sun as before.

Robbers Stalked Through Cemetery

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—Solution of nearly a score of western Pennsylvania robberies was claimed by police today after the arrest of three men involved in a wild automobile chase from Greensburg and a stealthy stalk through a Wilkinsburg cemetery.

Police said two of the suspects admitted more than 14 robberies and the third confessed to a $1,000 robbery at Greensburg Saturday night which led to the arrests.

State police chased the men to Wilkinsburg where the fugitives burst in and out of three terrified residents' homes. Then they fled into nearby woodland cemetery where one was arrested. The other suspects were apprehended in their homes.

POLICE CHIEF DIES

West Bridgewater, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Daniel M. Baker, 67, chief of police in this Beaver county town for 20 years, died Saturday of a heart attack. He was chief county detective for eight years.

Providence And Caps Are Out

(By The Associated Press)

Providence, in the east, and Indianapolis in the west, faced almost certain elimination for the playoffs in the American hockey league today.

Each sextet has only two games left, and although the Caps are tied with the Pittsburgh Hornets for third place, they are closer to elimination than the Reds, who are one point back of the third place New Haven Ramblers.

The Hornets, who handed the Caps their first shutout of the season Saturday, have four games left to play and need to collect only five points to finish off the Caps.

Providence, which lost week-end games to Cleveland and Indianapolis, will be eliminated if New Haven wins two of its remaining three games.

Three Tied In West

Thus, it appears New Haven will join the pennant winning Hershey Bears and the runner-up Hornets in the Eastern's playoffs, and Cleveland, Buffalo and Pittsburgh will scrap it out in the western half.

Buffalo won both its games over the week-end, nosing out Springfield, 2-1, Saturday and blasting front-running Cleveland, 5-2, last night.

Indianapolis led the Reds throughout its 6-5 victory last night and in the only other game, the tail-end western division St. Louis Flyers clipped New Haven, 7-5.

Critically Injured In Strange Accident

Greensburg, Pa., March 10 (AP)—A tunnel made of snow, a sled, and a shotgun which did not go off were involved in a strange accident yesterday which sent six-year-old Andrew Zorosak, of nearby Yukon, to Westmoreland hospital with critical internal injuries.

Details of the accident were not known but Andrew's parents said the boy was hurt when he coasted through the tunnel and collided with the gun as he emerged.

CALLS RUSSIA "AGGRESSOR"

Waynesboro, Pa., March 10 (AP)—In a strong appeal for universal military training Paul H. Griffith, of Uniontown, national commander of the American Legion, branded Soviet Russia as "an aggressor nation."

In address here Friday night the head of 3,500,000 Legionnaires accused the Soviet government of spreading an "iron curtain" over all of Europe.

Griffith said the international situation was such that the United States must be prepared to meet an eventuality and that a strong army was one of the nation's best safeguards.

"If there was ever a time that the international situation is critical, now is the time," declared Griffith. The Legion head left here early today for Harrisburg, where tonight he will be guest of honor at a testimonial dinner tendered by Legionnaires of the 19th district, comprising Cumberland, Dauphin, and Lebanon counties.

Raid Gambling Den, Nab More Than 100

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—Allegheny county detectives arrested 103 persons in a raid yesterday on what chief county Detective Joseph Stack said was a notorious gambling house in nearby Homestead. He reported $217 in cash was confiscated.

One hundred persons were released on $10 forfeits. The eight others were held on gambling charges and later released on bond.

EXPANSION OF SOVIET BURNING BALKANS ISSUE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The question of American aid for Greece—which over the week-end has become coupled with discussion of possible help for Turkey as well—has brought a sizzling inquiry from a man of few words who asks with raised eyebrows:

"Is the United States going to pull England's chestnuts out of the fire?"

Well, I could be wrong but it isn't my observation that the people of this country are disposed to pull any chestnuts out of the fire excepting their own.

Premise Incorrect

That's quite apart from Uncle Sam's desire to be generous and helpful to his fellow men.

Anyway, the first step in analyzing our question is to determine whether its premise is correct—and we soon find that it isn't. Washington obviously takes the view that those Balkan chestnuts don't belong to John Bull but to Uncle Sam as well, so the problem isn't to establish ownership of the Chestnuts but how best to get them out of the fire.

The proposition of course is that Greece and Turkey—both friends of the Western Allies—are in grave danger of being swallowed by the Red flood which has swept down the Balkan Peninsula. America and Britain stand to lose not only Greece and Turkey, but these two strategic outposts are in turn bulwarks of independence in the Eastern Mediterranean, Persia and the whole Middle East. Moreover, their downfall would weaken the chances of Western Europe to resist being Communized and absorbed.

Disaster Possible

Naturally then the United States has vital interests in the Balkan crisis. For one thing she has vast economic rights to safeguard—oil being one. But far more to the point is the fact that the continued independence of that area is essential to world peace.

This is true because nothing short of disaster could result from any one nation—no matter which—gaining domination of the bulk of the globe.

The United States has fought two worlds to prevent one nation—Germany—from gaining military domination of Europe, and perhaps land beyond. And don't overlook that even before Hitler launched his war of conquest he had an iron-clad politico-economic control of the Balkans and Eastern Europe barring Russia. It was virtually impossible for any outside nation to do trade in Hitler's great zone of domination.

That's why Uncle Sam now is considering how best to pull chestnuts out of the Balkan fire—his chestnuts. If he can secure them, he may prevent another world catastrophe.

That I take to be the real story of what our Uncle is up to. Certainly he isn't bent on maintaining the British empire. As a matter of fact, he has made it amply clear by word and deed that he doesn't believe in empires.

Mild Weather Is Aid To Gas Supply

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—Increase of the natural gas supply to Pittsburgh area industries was announced today with the arrival of milder weather. The forecast called for a temperature rise today to 42—ten degrees warmer than yesterday.

The supply of gas was expected to range from 40 to 50 per cent of normal, or perhaps higher, as compared with 25 to 35 per cent during the cold spell last week. Reinstatement of the supply means recalls to work of an estimated 5,000 workers furloughed.

SUGAR STAMP FOR 10 POUNDS

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The office of temporary controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 in OPA family ration books will become good April 1 for 10 pounds of sugar.

Validation of the 10-pound stamp will mark OPA's changeover from the 5-pound ration procedure for household users. The current stamp, No. 53 good for five pounds, will expire March 31.

Stamp No. 11 will be good through September 30 but APO said a second stamp good for 10 pounds will be validated July 1 providing sugar imports meet expectations.

OPA officials said it is possible that still another 10 pounds, bringing the year's total for household users to 35, may be made available September 30.

OPA emphasized that new stamps being validated include sugar for both regular and canning use. No separate stamps will be issued for canning. Last year household users got 15 pounds of sugar for regular use and 10 for home canning.

Probe Mystery Stabbing Of Woman

Ligonier, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Dr. Adam S. Keppel, Westmoreland county coroner, was investigating today the death of Mrs. Robert Miller, about 30, of Ligonier R. D. 3, found in her home yesterday with a stab wound in her neck and a butcher knife by her side.

The coroner said the body was found in the locked house by the husband and the couple's two small children after their return from driving Miller's parents home.

HORSE FOR GOVERNOR

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—Governor James H. Duff today looked forward to long horseback rides over the woodland trails at Indiantown gap on the prize-winning Tennessee walking horse presented him at Butler Saturday night by the interstate walking horse association of Butler. He hadn't ridden a horse for 20 years.

Independence Hall Threatened By Fire

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—Smoldering sparks fell on the roof of America's famed Independence Hall, but firemen from 18 Philadelphia companies extinguished wind-swept flames that reached 200 feet into the air last night and temporarily threatened the nation's shrine.

A four-story brick building was gutted and two adjoining structures badly damaged in a fire that raged nearly two hours directly opposite Independence Hall.

The shop and warehouse of the Joy Hosiery company was wrecked and officials estimated damage at more than $100,000. Water and fire into the air last night and temporarily threatened the nation's shrine.

WHAT PART DOES ADVERTISING PLAY IN YOUR FUTURE?

Here's How Advertising Helps Make Your Income
Safe and Sure; Helps Create Good Jobs
for Your Daughter and Son

TODAY producing goods is no longer America's big problem. In most fields selling the goods is the big job.

You know of dozens of businesses right in your neighborhood that could be twice as big as they now are if they could sell twice as much. And if they were twice as big, they'd employ twice as many people.

One of the lowest-cost methods of selling goods on a big scale is through advertising. Advertising sells goods. When more goods are sold, often prices come down—so more people buy those goods more often.

That means more jobs at the factory—and at all the firms that do business with that factory; the mines, mills, transportation companies, dealers, stores, banks, insurance companies, real estate firms, etc.

All along the line there are more and better jobs for everyone.

That's how advertising—by stimulating business—makes for a more secure present and brighter future for you and yours.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

MINER—Practically every business uses what I mine. When their sales slack off, mines slow down. Some close. So when I see advertising—almost every kind—I know it's selling goods for firms that use what I mine—and so make my income steadier.

RAILROAD MAN—For freight to roll, goods must be sold. So when I read or hear advertising I know it's as vital to my job as steel rails.

HOUSEWIFE—Some folks seem to forget that there's no use of a firm's making goods unless it can sell them. I like all advertising because I can understand its job is to sell. And I can see that no sales at the plant where my husband works would soon mean no pay check for us.

Advertising... Makes your job more secure

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear father, James H. Woodward, who died three years ago today, March 10, 1944.

Three years have gone
Oh how I miss you
Never shall your memory fade
Sweeter hopes shall ever linger
Around the grave where you are laid.

Out in the Evergreen cemetery
Neath the cold cold clay there
They laid my dear father
Just three years ago today.

Safe in the arms of Jesus, Father,
We parted three years ago and why
I had to give you up only
God in heaven shall know.
By his son, Crester.

SOARING WHEAT PRICES PUSHING BREAD COST UP

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Chicago, March 10 (AP)—Soaring wheat prices were hitting the consumer today with bread undergoing hikes in several cities throughout the country.

Bread, the traditional staff of life, has been raised from a cent to three cents a loaf in many of the principle cities as wheat at the nation's major terminals brings the highest prices since 1920.

An Atlanta grocery concern with several retail stores announced the sharpest advance reported, a three-cent boost to 17 cents for a 24-ounce loaf. In New York, New England, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Mich., Cleveland, Indianapolis, Ind., and Los Angeles the consumers already have been tagged for a cent or two more on each loaf.

Warnings Consumers
A bakery spokesman at Minneapolis has warned consumers there to brace themselves for a one-cent boost, which, he added, would cover only a small portion of the increased costs of ingredients and other production charges.

Warnings Consumers
A bakery spokesman at Minneapolis has warned consumers there to brace themselves for a one-cent boost, which, he added, would cover only a small portion of the increased costs of ingredients and other production charges.

In Chicago, a wholesale bakery representative said he was "afraid" a price hike would be necessary soon. In Canada the wheat board raised its price of wheat for export to countries other than Great Britain 5 cents a bushel, effective today. The new price is $2.80 a bushel, highest since September, 1920.

Seeking Grain
Mills were scouring the country for the grain. Texas and Oklahoma mills were reported searching for wheat in the spring wheat territory of the northwest, while mills in that area were having difficulty in obtaining the grade and quality desired.

In the past seven weeks wheat has soared around 50 cents a bushel. Flour prices have been hiked in line with the wheat advance. Bread has escaped until flour purchased by bakers were using flour purchased nounced that the Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary will be the speaker at the assembly at Gettysburg high school on Wednesday morning, May 14, when the essay contest awards will be made. The topic chosen for the contest is "My Obligations as an American Citizen."

Welcome New Members
The recent read an invitation to the chapter members to attend a meeting of the Woman's club on March 12 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the YWCA when Mrs. J. Stewart Williams, state chairman of legislation, will be the guest speaker. It was decided to give $15 to Ellis Island. The chapter welcomed the following new members: Mrs. Elizabeth Group, Mrs. Harry Ginrich and Mrs. Melvin Stover. Mrs. Charles Drum was welcomed back into the chapter as a transfer from Washington.

"The Pilot's Psalm," recently published in the National Defense News, was read by Mrs. Danforth. This was composed in 1943 by Chaplain Edward H. Jones, former pastor of the Presbyterian church in Gettysburg and now pastor at State College, Pa.

During the afternoon Mrs. John M. Griesinger presented a group of vocal solos. Her numbers included "Nymphs and Shepherds," Purcell, "The Bond Maid," Lalo, "Two Little Magpies," Wells, and "My Mother Bids Me Blind My Hair," Hayden. She was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sheffer.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Hanson for the meeting were Mrs. J. E. Musselman, Miss Besse Hoke, Mrs. Milo Gallinger, Mrs. C. H. Hett, Miss Margaret McMillan, Mrs. Roy Brumbaugh, Miss Grace Sachs and Mrs. Dennis Hartman.

before the current advance started. Purchases of wheat and flour by government agencies for shipment to food deficit areas abroad were considered primarily responsible by grain experts for the sharp price advance. Box car shortages were believed to be a contributing factor.

Pacheco nodded solemnly. "Si, it is a long time. We have missed you." Gesturing toward the group of children, Irskine grinned. "Well I see you haven't wasted the years."

"Ah, los niños!" The Mexican chuckled proudly and gave Irskine a wink. "That is the way to keep the woman happy, Señor, never allow her to forget that she is your wife. My Carmelita is a jewel; I was very lucky to win her." He stood aside. "Come in Señor, come in."

Stooping slightly as he passed through the door, Irskine entered the cool gloom of the thick-walled adobe.

The Strange Returning

By Cameron Dockery

AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 1

As a faded battered string of freight cars of the N.M. & A. slowed by the water tower, one of the barn-like doors on the opposite side slid open and a man peered out. For a moment he clung to the iron ladder on the side then he closed the door carefully and dropped to the ground. Without looking back, he struck off across the desert.

Because of his cramped muscles his stride was short and stiff at first but gradually it lengthened into an easy mile-consuming gait. The warm dry wind sent dust devils swirling after him and the late afternoon sun threw his elongated shadow on the ground before him. It was not unlike one of the giant saguaro cacti growing around him.

To the untrained eye his appearance belied his surroundings. His face was a yellowish tan, not the healthy bronze that comes from outdoor living, and his city clothes were ill-fitting as though he had grown after buying them. Now as though suddenly conscious of their inappropriateness he removed his coat and waved it violently in the air then tossed it over his arm. If he had had to explain his action he would have said that the clinging of a sheep car was thoroughly repugnant to an ex-cattleman.

After a mile his undeviating course brought him to a small adobe house on the side of what passed for a road. A half-tended garden patch fought the sun beside it and in the scanty shade of a seared china-berry tree some brown children played. The man stopped and counted them thoughtfully. Four! He emitted a wry chuckle and knocked on the wooden door.

"Que es eso?" a drawing voice called.

The man didn't answer and in a moment the door swung wide and a drowsy-eyed Mexican peered out. His breath was heavily potent with a mixture of garlic and tequila and now his mouth fell open in a gape of disbelief.

"Dios! Señor Irskine! Is it you?" Irskine laughed appreciatively. "Do I look like a ghost, Pacheco?"

"No señor, though you are a little black." The thick lips widened in a happy grin. "In the paper a year ago it say you killed in war."

Jeff Irskine's thick eyebrows soared in surprise, then he too grinned. "That mistake happened to a lot of guys, amigo."

"Si, but I am glad it is not so." "Not half as glad as I am," Jeff said dryly. He shifted his weight to the other foot and gave his belt a hike. "Four years is a long time to be away from Arizona, Pacheco. . . I never thought I'd long for the homely sight of a dried-up tumble weed, but I did."

Pacheco nodded solemnly. "Si, it is a long time. We have missed you." Gesturing toward the group of children, Irskine grinned. "Well I see you haven't wasted the years."

"Ah, los niños!" The Mexican chuckled proudly and gave Irskine a wink. "That is the way to keep the woman happy, Señor, never allow her to forget that she is your wife. My Carmelita is a jewel; I was very lucky to win her." He stood aside. "Come in Señor, come in."

LABOR BILLS TO FOLLOW PROBE

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—A two-day House subcommittee investigation of the western Pennsylvania CIO-AFL jurisdictional beer war ended Friday night with a prediction by Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) that revised labor legislation will be introduced in Congress on March 27.

He said probably he would introduce the legislation on the floor of the House himself. He would not comment on the nature of the bill.

About 60 witnesses appeared before the subcommittee.

Albert Dietrich, president of AFL-Teamsters Joint Council 40, told the congress

CONVERSION OF ALL OCCUPATION SCRIP ORDERED

By TOM LAMBERT

Tokyo, March 10 (AP)—An immediate, world-wide conversion of all U. S. occupation scrip was ordered today to block counterfeiting and illegal possession by non-Americans. General MacArthur's headquarters said $60,000,000 worth of scrip was turned in by the 6 p. m. deadline. New military currency—the fifth U. S. issue in Japan—will be given out later but for the time being not an American legally has as much as a dime in his pocket. Only pennies were exempt from the conversion order.

Kept Tight Secret

The order—top secret—came from the War Department. To make certain that the news did not leak out and thus permit illegal possessors to trade it to GIs, all communications between Japan and all foreign countries were blacked out several hours. The blackout applied to the Associated Press and other news services, which were not permitted to transmit any news whatever despite assurance that they could send dispatches about anything except conversion.

Even during the war, when all news was censored, correspondents never were denied the use of transmission facilities for noncensorable material.

"This is the surest way of forestalling successful counterfeiting operations," said Gen. Joseph T. McNarney in Frankfurt. In Germany the order was seen as a blow to black marketing as well as counterfeiting.

To Check Sources

The European theatre commander warned that army authorities "will take due notice of excessive amounts" turned in by individuals and that investigation of their sources of income will follow.

Over a month ago bogus $5 and $10 bills began appearing in France and Germany. Since then nine persons, including three American army officers, four American civilians and two French civilians have been arrested on charges of passing counterfeit currency.

The scrip—called "military payment certificates"—is the only legal tender in military installations throughout the European theater. It was issued last September in a similar surprise action to replace allied military marks which had been used since the invasion of Germany. Only persons authorized to buy in American military installations were authorized to possess scrip.

COMMITTEE OK FOR LILIENTHAL

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy committee today voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Dr. Robert Bacher and Sumner T. Pike as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), cast the only vote against Lilienthal. His Ohio colleague, Senator Taft, chairman of the Republican Policy committee, already had declared against the former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Senator Connally (D-Texas), and Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who were attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

All the names now go to the Senate floor for consideration.

Connally was recorded only on the Lilienthal nomination. Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), said the Texas senator explained he did not know enough about the other nominees to cast a vote on them.

Bacher, Strauss and Waymack were approved by a vote of 8 to 0, with Connally abstaining.

sacraments, the Holy Mass, prayer, the commandments of God and the precepts of the church. A round of religious exercises including mass, public prayer, rosary and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be held daily during the period, he announced.

Main object of the mission, as outlined in pamphlets issued at the masses Sunday, is "to make all classes of people take more to heart the first lesson of the Catechism—Why did God make me? to know my Maker, to serve Him and to save my soul."

During the period Catholics were urged to "avoid all unnecessary distractions, all worldly amusements, and all dangerous and frivolous conversations, because all this is calculated to turn your attention away from the serious and all-important truths preached during the Mission."

Members of the church were urged to attend every one of the services.

Bodies of two of three unidentified victims lie in a Providence, R. I., restaurant hallway after a gun battle with police. Police officers who had been tipped off in advance of the planned robbery were waiting for the men. (AP Wirephoto)

COAL LOSING MUCH GROUND AS U.S. FUEL

New York, March 10 (AP)—Coal as national fuel has lost much ground in the last quarter-century but the big wholesale shift to oil and gas expected after last November's soft-coal strike has been slow to materialize.

In 1920 coal supplied 80 per cent of the total U. S. energy requirements. Today the figure is 47 per cent. There has been a gradual shift by home owners from coal to oil and gas over the last 25 years or so but no evidence is available that the coal strike accelerated the change-over in the last three months.

Department of commerce figures show that of all homes and plants with central heating plants in 1934, only 4.4 per cent used oil. Six years later the oil burners heater 12 per cent.

Oil Men Happy

Some conversion has taken place since the strike but over-all there has been no rush to abandon coal as a means of producing heat. Philadelphia electric changed over two of its six plants to oil. Pennsylvania railroad announced it was purchasing a number of Diesel engines. A

Mrs. Carrie Catt Expires On Sunday

New Rochelle, N. Y., March 10 (AP)

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, 88, who entered the fight for world peace after her "unflagging crusade" for women's suffrage had succeeded, died yesterday of heart disease at her home here.

Only two days before, she had told her biographer, Mary Gray Peck, that she hoped to live to see the United Nations become a "going concern."

"With the passing of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, an era in our national life comes to a close," President Truman said in a telegram delivered yesterday to the Catt home. "She will be widely mourned and long remembered."

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, with burial in Woodlawn cemetery in New York city.

bring a better price than plain fuel oil. By today's methods, only about 24 per cent of each barrel of crude is residual and oil men hope that ten years from now only 10 per cent will be residual. If this happens, the U. S. navy would have first call. There wouldn't be enough for industry as a whole."
